HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 24, 1919.

SMALL DOSES

Villa is planning a new drive, this time away from the border.

Hogs are steady this week at $16.50 for tops. Wheat is up three cents.

The King and Queen of Belgium are on their way to the United States.

Congressman Kinchloe has appointed Lucien Wells, Jr., to the Naval academy at Annapolis.

With 600 troops who came on the Imperator, there were 115 French brides and 75 police dogs.

Wendling, the murderer who escaped from Frankfort, has had two years added to his life sentence.

Nathan Morris, a wealthy young citizen, was shot from ambush while in his garage at Fulton, Ky.

The many visitors in Hopkinsville are cordially welcomed by all citizens. May they find their stay in the city a pleasant one.

Elsie Wilson, an English girl who got into the United States disguised as a sailor lad, is held in New York and is begging to be allowed to stay.

In Reno, Nev., President Wilson spoke to an audience in one hall and by an electrical device his words were telephoned to people in three other halls who heard his speech.

The Italian government has appealed to the allies to send a force to drive D'Annunzio's troops out of Fiume. No United States troops are available.

The policemen and firemen of Evansville have compromised their troubles with Mayor Bosse and disbanded their unions. They got $180 increases yearly.

A New York Baptist preacher who suggested a strike of poorly paid ministers is out in another interview declaring there will be no strike but the awakened consciences of congregations will bring results.

Imbedded in quicksand under 40 feet of water off Rebecca Shoals light house, 40 miles from here, divers on Sept. 19 found a vessel believed to be the Spanish passenger liner Valbanera, which has been missing since the eastern portion of the Gulf of Mexico was swept by a hurricane Sept. 9. The ship carried a crew of 88 and 400 passengers.

The Democrats are well supplied with speakers on the ticket this time. Black, Harriss, Shank, Daugherty Foster, Newman and Cohen are all good and entertaining speakers and are capable one and all of upholding party principles on the stump. The party has seldom presented a ticket with more stumping ability.

DAY OF PRAYER AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

In preparation of the nation-wide campaign planned for the first week in December by the Baptists of the country, this week has been set apart as a week of prayer and all members of the Baptist churches are asked to properly observe the week. The campaign looks to raising not less than $75,000,000 for the work of the Baptist church throughout the world.

Next Sunday, September 28, also has been set aside by the Baptists of Kentucky as State Mission Day.

September 24 will be observed as a day of prayer and fasting, and Pastor L. W. Doolan announces that the First Baptist church will be open all day with some of the deacons in charge each hour from early morning until the prayer meeting service at night.

Made $230 Haul.

Officer Joe Claxton raided a crap game near the overhead bridge on the Canton pike Sunday and rounded up ten negroes who were fined $23.50 each in county court the next day.

On Serious Charge.

Roy Jordan, who lives in North Christian, was arrested on a charge of breaking into Grace's store near Rock Bridge, and was released on bond, his case going to the grand jury now in session.

We are authorized to announce R. T. STOWE as a candidate or re-election for City Commissioner for the City of Hopkinsville, subject to the action of the non-partisan primary, October 18th, 1919.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF CHRISTIAN CHURCHES OF KY.

Eighty-Seventh Meeting Held Here Monday Night at the Ninth Street Church and Will Continue Two More Days.

The eighty-seventh annual convention of the Christian churches of Kentucky began here Monday, with an evening session at the Christian church. The delegates in attendance number about 200 or 300, including many of the ablest men of the denomination in the State.

The first session was the Education session, with W. Hume Logan, of Louisville, presiding.

After devotional exercises by J. J. Castleberry, of Mayfield, the welcome address was delivered by Jas. B. Allenworth and responded to by Mrs. John T. Gay, of Versailles.

The first report was on the Kentucky Female Orphans' School, submitted by Miss Ella Johnson, of Midway.

She reported the school in fine condition with an enrollment of about 150. This was followed by the report on Transylvania, Hamilton College and the College of the Bible, by President R. H. Crossfield, of Lexington. He reported 316 pupils enrolled in Transylvania and 194 in Hamilton Junior College for girls.

BOTH JURIES ARE AT WORK

STEEL STRIKE BEGAN MONDAY AFFECTING 600,000 WORKERS

CIRCUIT COURT BEGINS LONG TERM WITH JUDGE BUSH ON THE BENCH

THE GRAND JURY EMPANЕLED

And Charged to Go After Gamblers And Profiteers Without Mercy.

Circuit Court opened the fall session Monday with Judge Bush on the bench and the first step was to empanel the following grand jury.

J. T. Garnett, foreman.
W. W. Barbee.

N. E. Nabb.

C. W. West.

R. C. Carter.

E. E. Forbes.

W. J. Stroube.

C. W. Lile.

B. B. Blane.

C. W. Clements.

Ben Hadden.

S. E. Yancey.

Judge Bush's charge to the grand jury dealt especially with the gambling evil and with the new evil of profiteering that is just now attracting wide attention all over the country.

Regarding profiteering Judge Bush declared the "conditions in this country are simply appalling." He said the government is trying to do something about it but that here in Kentucky we have an anti-trust law which is to prevent firms or individuals from conspiring together to raise prices unjustly.

That people should have a conscience, and if they haven't they should be brought to recognition of the rights of others under the law. "If you can secure sufficient evidence to hang an indictment on, I hope you will do it," he said.

This term of court will last for six weeks and the docket is heavy, many of the cases being divorce suits.

The petit jury was empaneled in the afternoon and got down to business without delay.

The following men were drawn from the panel as members of the petit jury: W. H. Barksdale, C. L. Morgan, Tom Johnson, S. W. Hall, Frank Ralston, Dulin Crabtree, Raymond Yancey, J. C. Gary, D. W. Chilton, A. H. Wallace, J. R. Boyd, J. F. Pyle, B. F. Wright, John West, J. F. Weaver, Rex McCourt, L. L. Leavell, C. F. Knight and G. L. Dunn.

By a court order, D. W. Chilton was excused from jury duty.

The first two days of the session were taken up by the routine matter of court, such as reports from the different county officials, and motions to set aside equity suits.

which the main offensive is directed, was able to operate most of its plants in the Pittsburgh district, according to the company officials. In the Chicago steel center, some of the largest plants were forced to close down, but others operated on a reduced scale.

It was in the Mahoning Valley that the strikers seemed to make the most headway, for with three large steel mills in the Youngstown district shut down and others running only part capacity, the steel producing industry in that section was reported to be fast approaching general paralysis.

In the Cleveland district, too, the strikers apparently made a successful attack. Only four of the twenty plants were in operation and, according to labor leaders, 19,000 men are affected.

In the Chicago district company officials estimated that from 70 to 90 per cent. of their workers had remained loyal, while at strike headquarters in that city it was claimed 67,500 had obeyed the strike call.

Labor leaders in the Youngstown district proper and 55,000 in the entire district, which includes Sharon and Newcastle, Pa. Company estimates were much less.

offered for sale.

One of the features of the sale will be the drawing of six tickets, each good for $50 in merchandise. These tickets will be distributed thru the crowd, and at each drawing, the name of the merchant where the ticket is good will be announced. One of these tickets will be good at Wall & McGowan's, one at J. H. Anderson & Co., another at Frankel's Busy Store; another at the J. T. Edwards Co.; one at the Irving Roseborough Co., and one at the Koppel Cloak Company.

The only restriction in regard to the drawing is that the person must be present to get the prize.

Col. Iglesias and Son, auctioneers, will handle the auction end.

On Friday, the same Auctioneers will handle the big cattle sale. A large number of cattle have already been pledged to this sale and it promises to be the biggest thing of its kind yet held.

Evangelistic services are being held each night this week at eight o'clock at the Second Baptist church. Dr. H. E. Gabby preached Monday night and Dr. L. W. Doolan last night. All the members are urged to come and bring somebody. Visitors will receive a cordial welcome. The W. M. S. is observing this week of prayer with services each afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church.

Kentucky families are being paid $26,053,940 in War Risk Insurance claims by Uncle Sam. He is making restitution to those whose sons and husbands died in the service of their country during the greatest wars of all times.

There are 2981 insurance claims being paid in Kentucky through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance to beneficiaries named at the time application for insurance was made by the soldiers, sailors and marines, now dead. The average policy carried by these 2981 men was $8,740.

Disabled soldiers, as well as widows and children and dependent parents of those who have died, are being made comfortable by the government which is paying 1686 compensation claims to residents of Kentucky.

In addition to the insurance and compensation claims now being paid in Kentucky, there are 1285 of both these classes of claims under investigation. These cases, however, are rapidly being adjusted following an investigation by Bureau representatives.

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance which administers these affairs, has been established by the government as a permanent institution in recognition of the services veterans of the World War rendered their country.

The insurance which veterans are able to carry as a result of this act of an appreciative government will be a constant reminder to them of the part they took in the war; whether it has been a matter of accomplishing a deed of valor as performed by Sergeant Alvin York, of Pall Mall, Tenn., or that of the newest recruit who only underwent the discomforts of barrack life and was deprived by overseas service by the armistice.

Records in the Bureau show that this has been a young man's war and a mother's war. More than 47 per cent of the men who carried government insurance made mothers their beneficiaries. Fathers were named by approximately 16 per cent of the men.

The average age of the men killed in France was 23 years.

An examination of the records in the Bureau of War Risk Insurance shows that a large percentage of married men in arranging for the future protection of their families planned for insurance to be paid to their mothers, while their thought, in arranging their compensation benefits, was for their wives.

About 32 per cent of the men who carried War Risk Insurance named their wives in making arrangements for compensation. Mothers were named by 22 per cent while the "wife and child" were named by 14 per cent. This is the natural consequences or privileges granted by the War Risk Insurance act. They felt it their duty to provide for the immediate needs of their family, making, at the same time, through application for insurance, provision for their parents in their advancing years.

Insurance claims which the Bureau will be called upon to pay amount to more than $1,012,000,000. The amount of premiums received from all service men and which was deducted from their pay during the active period of the war approximates only $200,000,000 or less than one-fifth of the amount of insurance claims. The excess above premiums will be paid by the government.

ADVOCATES STRIKE OF MINISTERS FOR SALARIES

New York, Sept. 21.—A nationwide strike of Baptist clergymen, unless they are granted higher salaries, was advocated in a statement issued here Tuesday by Charles A. McAlpine, a member of the national committee of northern Baptist laymen.

"If I were still a pastor and my salary was not more than $800 per annum, which is the most received by the average clergyman in our denomination, I'd organize a union of ministers," said Mr. McAlpine, who predicted there should be a shortage of clergymen soon unless ministers are better compensated than "milkmen, window cleaners and day laborers."

Advice Soldiers Need Not Take.
Sergeant, the French for which is sergeant, the Italian sergente, comes from the medieval Latin word sergens, meaning a servant, a vassal, or a vassal soldier who seems to have acted as an orderly or striker. Tell this to your sergeant some warm day when he criticizes your appearance on parade in his coarse, unfeeling manner. It will soften him. It may even melt him—New York Evening Post.

THE DEMOCRATIC RALLY BROUGHT OUT 7,000 PEOPLE LAST SATURDAY

Gov. Black and Congressman Hardy The Principal Speakers, With Most of The Nominees Present.

MORE THAN ENOUGH TO EAT FOR ALL

The crowd at the Democratic rally Saturday was estimated at from 5,000 to 7,000 by the number of dinner trays distributed. The barbecue was served in the big cattle barn, each person being supplied with a tray and passing through the barn would go out after being helped. S. L. Cowherd was committeeman in charge and his systematic management was everywhere apparent. There was an abundance for all to eat and some whole carcasses were left and were sold in the afternoon.

The crowd of Democrats included many from out of the state and all adjoining counties sent large delegations. Nearly all of the nominees were present. Gov. Black did not speak until in the afternoon.

Speakers who preceded him were:

John W. Newman, Versailles, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture; Mat S. Cohen, Lexington, candidate for Secretary of State; Chas. M. Harris, Versailles, candidate for Lieutenant Governor; Frank E. Daugherty, Bardstown, candidate for Attorney General, and Thomas S. Rhea, of Russellville, Democratic campaign manager.

The concluding speaker was Congressman Rufus Hardy, Texas, who devoted himself to national matters. Congressman Hardy made a ringing appeal for support of the Democratic ticket in Kentucky this fall, calling attention to the fact that a presidential election is to be held in 1920, and the success of the Democrats this fall would make success easier for them in the national election.

Gov. Black did not follow Morrow in naming a list of seven persons, men and women, whom he would appoint to the State Board of Control.

He promised, however, to confer with leading men and women of the State before naming members of the State Board of Control. The present law, he said, provides for a board of five members, but he favors a smaller number.

Regarding Mr. Morrow's criticisms in connection with the Harkness tax compromise, whereby the State was deprived of millions of dollars in taxes, Gov. Black said that within three days after he succeeded Mr. Stanley as Governor he directed that an inquiry into this matter be started while the only remedy, if a wrong had been done, is through the courts, he said, and the case is now pending.

The Governor charged plagiarism on the part of Mr. Morrow, asserting that he had adopted as his own at least two planks in the Democratic platform. One of these calls for a separate department of labor, and the creation of the office of State Labor Commissioner, and the other would bring about a production on oil.

Mr. Morrow, the Governor said, charges wastefulness on the part of the Democratic administration, but failed to accompany his charge with a bill of particulars. It is true that it costs more to run the State government now than it did under Governor Willson, Gov. Black said, calling attention to the many improvements made in the way of roads, and establishment of departments of State, all essential, he said, to the growth of Kentucky.

Gov. Black pledged himself to have enacted, if elected, laws aimed at curbing profiteering in the necessities of life.

The governor endorsed the primary election and scolded the "boss-controlled" convention of the Republicans at Lexington, where, he said, the G. O. P. ticket was named in advance and the voters ignored.

Declaring that no candidate can pose as being free from imperfections, he denounced "the blantant criticism and fault finding" of his opponent and declared that he resented being ignored by Mr. Morrow, who had devoted most of his attention to the administration of Gov. Stanley.

He said Morrow promised to appoint a new Textbook Commission but declared that this cannot be done until the members' terms expire in 1924, at the same time defending his work in connection with the readoption of textbooks.

Rhea Attacks G. O. P. Leaders.

Probably the most biting speech of the opening was that of Mr. Rhea.

He charged A. T. Hert with being the "boss" of the Republican party in Kentucky, and Chesley Searchy, of Louisville, the "sub-boss."

Attacking S. Thurston Ballard, Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Rhea termed him a self-confessed profiteer, citing the admission of Mr. Ballard recently before Kentucky High Cost of Living Commission, that he charged $1.10 less per barrel for flour in Louisiana than he charges in Kentucky.

Mr. Rhea then referred to Mr. Morrow's plan for eliminating policies from the management of the penal and charitable institutions of the State.

Persons whom Mr. Morrow announced he would name to have charge of these institutions were all high class, Mr. Rhea admitted, but he charged that the Republican nominee for governor showed his hand when he said that Mr. Ballard, as Lieutenant Governor, would serve as ex-officio member of the board, and advise the buyers of State sup-pplies. He said he wondered if Mr. Ballard would advise the buyer to purchase flour for the state institutions at $1.10 more per barrel than is being charged for the same flour in Louisiana.

HARRIS SEES VICTORY.

Lieut. Gov. Harris, in a brief speech, said the Democratic party was united as never before, that it had been true to the people, had redeemed every platform pledge made in 1915, and that with a leader such as "practicable, sensible Jas. D. Black," was sure to win in November.

"Mr. Morrow," he said, "and those associated with him, tried to make the people believe that the issue in this campaign was a narrow, personal one, because Mr. Stanley, when Governor, did not do things to suit the Republicans."

Mr. Harris added that Morrow had been claiming to be a better man than Senator Stanley, but has never attempted to compare himself with Governor Black.

Mr. Harris said that the Republicans tactfully admit that all legislation, except the State primary law, enacted by the Democrats under Stanley, is good. They oppose the primary law, he charged, to justify selection of their candidates "at the behest of a coterie of Louisville politicians."

HOLDS LEAGUE AN ISSUE.

The contention of the Republicans that the League of Nations is not an issue in the present State campaign was scoffed at by Mr. Harris, who charged that they were attempting to mislead the people like they did in the Eighth district.

At the time King Swope, Republican, was making his race for Congress from that district he did not have the nerve to touch on the League of Nations, Mr. Harris said, but following his election, Republican newspapers claimed that his success was due largely to opposition to the league.

Mr. Cohen, in his address, said the Democrats should not forget that they have a real race on, but prophesied that they would win if all Democrats go to the polls on election day.

Thirty Republicans, Mr. Cohen charged, are now on the State payroll. He told a funny story or two that convulsed his hearers with laughter and when he left the stand he was roundly applauded amidst shouts of "Bring in another horse."

HOPKINSVILLE SHOWS PROHIBITION'S VALUE

In August, 1918, 191 cases were docketed in the police court of Hopkinsville, of which 116 were drunks. Last month, the second month of war-time prohibition, Hopkinsville had 53 cases docketed and of these 8 warrants charged drunkenness.

Twenty-seven arrests on drunk charges made August 31, 1918, were not docketed until September 2, of that year, the first being Sunday, and these would swell the total of August, 1918, to 218, showing a reduction under dry rule of nearly 80 per cent in the number of warrants.

The reduction in the number of arrests on drunk charges, including 27 not included in the August, 1918, report, was 94 per cent. These reports cover fair week at Hopkinsville in each year. In former years the police had a strenuous time handling the crowds at times. Chief Roper reports little else to do fair week this year, except traffic work.

The largest number of arrests for last month was for speeding, 24 being booked on that charge.

The scarcity of men in England is causing a bigamy scare. Sir Bernard Mallet, the registrar-general, is credited with the statement that British marriage laws afford less security against bigamy than the laws of almost any other civilized state. His department has prepared proposals for their amendment, but nothing has been done to carry them into effect.

The Dutch minister in Paris has been advised, according to Libre Belgique of Brussels, that Holland within two weeks will receive a demand for the extradition of former Emperor William in behalf of the allies.

President Wilson, in a telegram from Dunsuir, Calif., said that organization of the police forces of the country for the purpose of bringing pressure against the public should not be countenanced or permitted.

The President has started home and will make the following stops in many cities. Last week he spoke in the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City and today he is at Cheyenne, Wyo. During the remainder of the week there will be two stops a day, the President speaking at Denver Thursday morning; at Pueblo, Col., Thursday afternoon; at Wichita Kan., Friday morning; Little Rock, Ark., Saturday afternoon; Memphis, Tenn., Saturday night and Louisville Sunday and Monday.

Library Has Rest Room.
Rest rooms for the women, who come to town to shop, are developing very rapidly in many portions of Kentucky. Henderson county has one which has been offered by the Henderson Public Library. This room is already furnished with comfortable arm chairs, a large table which can be turned into a lunch table at the noon hour, and is equipped with a gas stove for demonstration purposes. If this move is a success and become popular with the country women, Rest Room plans will be made on larger scales.

Colored Paper.
The Hopkinsville Contender is the name of a new weekly paper published by U. S. and R. L. Poston.

There are 336,000 Indians in the United States. Of this number 20 per cent are Protestant adherents, twenty-five per cent are Catholic adherents, and 60 per cent are still heathen as to their religion. The Baptist 75 Million Campaign proposes to do a much larger work in the evangelization of the Red Men during the next five years, through great increasing the work of the Home Mission Board among them.

5,000 Helpless Orphans in South Are Asking the Privileges of a Home

Baptists Are Providing For That Many at Present in Fifteen Institutions But as Many More Are Waiting For Admission—The 75 Million Campaign Plans to Meet That Need.

A Group of Boys and Girls in the Tennessee Baptist Orphans Home near Nashville who are being cared for and trained for useful lives.

Does your heart go out to the worthy boy and girl bereft by the Grim Reaper of father and mother, and left alone in the world without the fostering care of those to whom they are naturally most dear in the world?

Then you will understand why Southern Baptists have established orphanages in fifteen states, caring for 5,000 such children in those homes and training them for useful lives in the world.

But the need is far greater than the ability of these institutions to meet it. While five thousand children are being cared for in these orphanages, there are on the waiting list of these institutions fully five thousand more equally worthy, fatherless and motherless boys and girls who are waiting for the privileges which these orphans afford but which must be denied them for the present because there is no room with which to shelter more of them.

So when the Baptist 75 Million Campaign was launched for the enlargement of the work of the denomination along general lines in an effort to meet growing spiritual needs in the homeland and throughout the world, the sum of $4,700,000 was apportioned to the orphanages, this sum to cover a program of five years, as the $75,000,000 sought in the campaign will be raised in cash and five-year pledges during Victory Week, November 30-December 7.

In the homes that have been provided for the orphans facilities are provided for giving regular schooling of the same character that is afforded in the public schools, beginning with the kindergarten and continuing to the tenth and eleventh grades in the high school. This work in the school room is supplemented, however, with practical training along industrial and other lines. For instance, the boys are given courses in practical farm work on the farms which have been purchased and are operated by the homes, livestock production, carpentering, tinsmithing, plumbing, laundrying, and the like, as well as courses in business for those who show special adaptation for that line of work.

The school room work for the girls is supplemented with the study of music, domestic science, stenography and the like. Large attention is given to the religious life of the children, also, and this is given emphasis in the daily chapel services, and in the Sunday School and preaching services on the Sabbath.

The orphan children respond readily to the opportunities and privileges afforded them and there have gone out from these institutions a number of the most useful men and women in the various states. While taking pride in the accomplishments of the boys and girls who are in the homes at present, as well as those who have gone out from there to make their own way in the world, the superintendent and teachers are saddened by the fact that there are so many other helpless children who ought to be aided but cannot be by reason of the limitations of the homes.

Enlargements are necessary for all of the fifteen orphanages fostered by Southern Baptists which are located in the following states: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

SOLDIERS AS EDUCATORS

will be that caused by the "supreme sacrifice" on the battlefield of France by the Rev. H. L. Jewett Williams, who entered the service and was commissioned as captain in the 326th Infantry. The Rev. Dr. John P. Peters, formerly rector of St. Michael's Church, New York, has been elected to the chair of New Testament interpretation in the Theological Department, formerly held by the late Rev. Williams. Dr. Peters is one of the foremost biblical scholars in the country.

Dr. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's, Atlanta, has been elected to the chair of Theology. Dr. J. B. Edwards of Greenville, Miss., son of Senator LeRoy Percy, who has been appointed acting assistant professor of English and will begin his duties at the opening Sept. 23. Mr. Percy is a graduate of the University of the South of the class of 1904, and also of Harvard Law School. He was in the active practice of law with his father when the war came on. He responded to the call of the country, and as a captain saw considerable service in France, winning the croix de guerre. He is not new to the profession of teaching, as for some time after the death of Dr. John Bell Henneman, long-time professor of English at Sewanee, Mr. Percy conducted the classes in the English department. He is the author of a book of poems.

In the department of foreign languages also there will be a world war veteran. Capt. George M. Baker, who has for the past two years been in France, will return to Sewanee and resume his duties as professor of Germanic languages. Lieut. Ralph R. Black recently of the U. S. Engineering corps has taken up his duties as University Engineer.

Athletics will be under the direction also of an ex-soldier, Earle C. Abell who is the new football coach. Mr. Abell, before entering the army coached the team at V. M. I.

On Verge Of Anarchy.

Four men were hurt, one seriously, when two bombs were thrown on the roof of the Market Street car barn, Twenty-fifth and Market Sts., at 9:30 o'clock last night. Just before the bombs exploded, men in two automobiles were seen to throw them to the roof, then speed away thru the alley in the rear of the barn. The injured were employees of the Louisville Railway company sleeping in the barn.—Courier-Journal.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side...

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a ran-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists NC-123

Boys Beat Farmers.

Last year the reports from boys in the Corn Club showed their average yield per acre was 53.44 bushels. The average for the farmers of the State was 31 bushels per acre. Taylor Smith, of Garrard, produced 135 bushels and Roy Steele, of Crestwood, shucked 109 bushels and 40 pounds per acre. It is evident the boys beat the farmers.

Approximately 100,000 members of Protestant churches are numbered among the natives of the Philippine Islands.

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."

Mrs. Lizzie COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

Don't Forget Lime.

Let us not forget lime. Nearly all of the soils of this section will profit by an application of lime. Some of them need liming as they need nothing else. The sweet soil—the soil rich in lime—is ready to make the best use of manure or fertilizers, ready to grow the legumes which will fit it with nitrogen and organic matter. The sour soil—the soil poor in lime—will not grow some of the legumes at all and will grow few or none of them as well as the soil supplied with lime. Use lime to grow legumes, and so lay the foundation of permanent soil improvement and continued good crops.—Southern Agriculturist.

THE DEMOCRATIC RALLY
BROUGHT OUT 7,000
PEOPLE LAST SATURDAY

Bring in another mule!" Inspired by the fact that Mr. Cohen, before he became State Commissioner of Agriculture, frequently served as judge of horses and mules at county fairs.

Mr. Cohen predicted that some stiff charges will be brought against Mr. Morrow between now and the close of the campaign.

John W. Newman said Mr. Morrow was attempting to take the minds of the people from the big accomplishments of the Democratic administration by referring to little things, "such as bed-bugs and cockroaches up at Frankfort," he said. "He reminds you that there were several cases of influenza in the feeble-minded institute, but forgets to tell you that this terrible epidemic swept the State.

"Mr. Morrow has referred to some of us as 'comebacks,' and thank God we are coming back, led by a man from the Eleventh Congressional District, the little giant of the Cumberlands, whose shoes Ed Morrow is unfit to unlace."

During the speaking the Aviators, Harrison and Combs' cut capers in front of the grandstand. A bouquet of roses addressed to the Governor was dropped from the plane.

The address of Congressman Rufus Hardy, of Texas, followed that of Gov. Black and this able orator from Texas made a fine speech that thoroughly enthused the Democrats. Gov. Black remained in the city until 11 o'clock Sunday, when he took a train for Murray, where he spoke Monday.

Christian county is in fine condition politically with little if any disaffection in Democratic ranks. Four years ago, only one minister in Hopkinsville, voted the Democrats ticket as a whole. This year the preachers are practically all for Black and the whole ticket.

DOCTORS.

A doctor is a high grade mechanic, who tinkers with the human mechanism and makes repairs and alterations at reasonable rates.

Doctors are so wise that they can tell what makes a man's great toe swell by looking at his grocery bill. A good doctor can take a drop of blood from a total stranger and after looking at it through a microscope, will often be able to shake hands with at least a dozen varieties of microbes, which are old friends of his. Some doctors are wiser than that. They are so wise that they can tell whether a patient needs 35 cents' worth of medicine or a $350 operation, without looking at him at all, provided they can find his rating in Bradstreet's. These doctors, like some wizards of finance, are considered too wise, however.

Doctors are manufactured by medical colleges in such quantities that a new doctor has to wait two years for the sick-list to catch up, and give him his share of work. Medical students are very wild, wearing beards on the slightest provocation and going around with their pockets full of pickled ears from the dissecting room. But after they have settled down to practice, they become grave and dignified. There is nothing more dignified than a very young doctor who is trying to diagnose a case of chickenpox, freehand, without looking at the book, except perhaps an old doctor, when he meets a young doctor, who has had the audacity to come into the old doctor's town, and breathe up some of his air.

Doctors are very formal and are stuffed full of ethics. Doctors must not advertise or encourage the public in any way, except by wearing tall silk hats and joining fraternal orders. Many a man who has acquired a rare and expensive disease has died of it, because the only doctor in his part who knows anything about it is sitting on the information as cautiously as a nife.

Messengers of Second Church.
The Second Baptist church has elected its messengers to the Bethel Association at Guthrie next week, as follows: Rev. E. O. Cottrell, Frank Boyd, Walter Powell and Otho McCord.

China has only 6,467 miles of railway to serve her 400,000,000 people, or one-quarter of the population of the globe. She needs 50,000 miles. Construction and operating costs in railroads are lower in China than anywhere else on the globe. Better transportation facilities would mean less famine and misery.

great amount of sickness at night. They also have to trust in Providence for their pay. It is much easier to call a doctor thirteen miles out into the country to subdue a mess of green corn that has insurgents than it is to drive in and pay him a year later. Doctors do more free work than any other class, except amateur orators, and we should not begrudge them a liberal fee when they sink a shaft into our interiors, and rearrange our works.

Doctors were poor and oppressed until the veriform appendix and the adenoid were discovered. Since them, however, they have prospered greatly, and are almost the only class who are able to make money by wearing out automobiles.

5-YEAR AVERAGE FOR U.S. WHEAT

Department Of Agriculture Makes Fall Farming Suggestions.

Washington, Sept 22—More wheat should be sown this fall than was the average in pre-war years, but not so much should be sown as was sown last year. This is the outstanding fall farming recommendation of the United States Department of Agriculture, which is watching the changes of world supply and demand while European countries are getting back to normal in food production. The department's suggestions are based on the observations or specialists who were sent abroad to report on foreign conditions and probable needs, and on the most extensive reports it has been possible to obtain from other sources in this country and other countries.

As to winter wheat, the department suggests that 42,000,000 acres be sown this fall to this crop, and that 20,000,000 acres be sown in 1920 to spring wheat, making a probable aggregate production in 1920 of 830,000,000 bushels, of which 200,000,000 bushels would be available for export after home needs are met. This production would approximately equal the average yield in the United States for the five years 1915 to 1919 inclusive. The five-year average is thought to be a safe guide for American farmers.

The suggested acreage for fall-sown wheat is approximately 85 per cent of the area sown in the fall of 1918 and is about the same as was sown in the fall of 1917. The suggested area for spring wheat is approximately 88 per cent of the area sown in each of the last two years. The combined acreage of winter and spring wheat suggested for 1920 is about 86 per cent of the acreage sown for the 1919 crop, slightly more than the acreage sown for the bumper crop of 1915 and about 4 per cent less than the area sown for the 1918 crop.

Winter Rye.

The pressure of war demand for rye has ceased, and it does not seem probable that exports next year will greatly exceed 25,000,000 bushels. Consumption of rye in this country was stimulated by the war to about 50,000,000 bushels. If this rate of consumption is maintained, a crop of 75 to 80 million bushels would be necessary to provide 25,000,000 bushels for export, indicating a total acreage of 5,500,000 to 6,000,000 acres, in comparison with 6,800,000 acres sown last fall.

"In any consideration of the probable demand for American wheat and rye based on pre-war consumption experience," says the department, "a greatly increased transportation cost and the existing condition of international exchange cannot be disregarded." It seems clear that if the foreign exchange situation continues as it is or becomes more abnormal it will constitute a powerful stimulus for some foreign countries to seek grain in countries other than the United States, or to produce it."

Dairying.

It is probable that several years will be required for European countries to get back to their normal cattle population. In order to supply their needs it will be necessary for them to import dairy products; and at the present time this country is supplying large quantities. Last year's exports were so large that about 2,000,000 pounds of milk were required to make the products, or 100 pounds for each cow in the United States. The department expects that exports will decrease and imports will increase with the exception of condensed milk. It recommends that dairymen give particular attention to economical feeding, thru the buying of concentrates in large lots or the co-operative buying of feeds; attention to pastures that have been allowed to run down; attention to the feeding needs of their cows by the use of cow-testing associations; and the best of labor and saving devices.

Live Stock.

"What our foreign trade in meat and meat products will be in the future is impossible to predict with any degree of accuracy, owing to the factors which may affect it," the department says. "The exports will probably decrease as compared with the past year, as the European countries increase their production of livestock towards the pre-war production."

Other factors affecting American export trade are rates of exchange, which in many cases are decidedly unfavorable to those countries most in need of our meat and meat products; campaigns being waged in the European countries for increased production and decreased consumption of meat and meat products in this country as compared with the prices in other countries having meat necessary to provide 25,000,000 bushels for export; available ocean tonnage for shipping from other countries.

However, pork exports at least will be greatly in excess next year of the pre-war annual exports. European countries probably will require two years to get back to their pre-war pork production, and their present needs are great.

Pre-war production of poultry in most European countries, the department says, will soon be resumed. Emphasis in this country is placed on efficient methods of production. Whether an increased production should be undertaken must necessarily depend on local conditions as to feed, labor and other factors.

THE RUSSIAN GRAND DUKES.
Former Grand Duke Michael of Russia, brother of the late Czar, and, assuming that the report of the murder of the little Czaritch is true, the legal claimant to the throne of the Romanoffs, has succeeded in making his escape from Russia, and is now somewhere in the Far East, presumably in Japan.

The story of the Grand Duke's escape is an exciting one, and it is not to be denied that he displayed considerable boldness in the execution of the undertaking. He got out of prison by clubbing into insensibility a warden who brought him his food, and dressed himself up in the latter's clothes. He slipped through Siberia in disguise, avoiding association with Admiral Kolchak's forces, although doubtless he is in sympathy with that commander. He stopped for a brief season at Vladivostok and then left that port. The best information concerning his movements is that he is in Japan, watching the Russian situation and hoping that some royalist reaction will give him the throne, which he now claims as his own.

There is very little information of a reliable character about this Grand Duke, although that which we have is not unfavorable. Certainly he was not pro-German during the war. He quarreled with the late Czar under circumstances which were not to his discredit, and the Czar would not earn any of that personal distinction that attaches to his first cousin, the Grand Duke Nicholas.

The last-named Grand Duke was at last accounts in Sweden. Those in his confidence say that he has accepted the fall of the Romanoff dynasty as something that will endure but is willing to help any plan calculated to undermine the Bolsheviks.—Louisville Post.

KENTUCKY MAN ASKS HELP FOR SERBIA

AFTER a month's investigation of conditions in Serbia and a survey of Serbia's man-power, Lieutenant Colonel Edgar E. Hume, Frankfort, Ky., an army officer, heading the American commission for relief service in the Balkans, has recommended that the American Red Cross continue its work there for at least another year.

"The hospitals need help most desperately," he reports. "If assistance is to come it must come promptly; and if it is to come promptly it must proceed from American sources. The need for rubber is very great and surgeons are forced to operate without the protection of rubber gloves even in the most infectious cases. Soap is another essential that has disappeared. The lack of laundry soap makes clean linen almost impossible. By continued washing with caustics, the hospital linens have worn out and cannot be replaced. The most necessary medicines are no longer in the hospital stores."

To assist in relieving the distressing situation in Budapest, the American Red Cross recently ordered the shipment of a trainload of medical and surgical supplies from its warehouse in Belgrade.

The train will carry American hospital equipment at all times—soaps, hospital garments and dietary foods—and will be in charge of an American Red Cross staff. As in many parts of Eastern Europe, the Red Cross work of relief will be done in co-operation with the feeding program undertaken by the American Relief Administration.

Colonel Hume also appeals to the American people for the relief of the orphans of Serbia, numbering half a million. He recommends an extension of this particular Red Cross activity which, due to the limited number of foreign workers, includes only a small proportion of the fatherless and motherless children of this country.

WAR RISK BUREAU MAKES RED CROSS CLEARING HOUSE FOR COMMUNITY PROBLEMS

THE American Red Cross was officially designated as the clearance medium for all community problems of service men at recent conference, at Washington, of the fourteen national welfare agencies with Director Cholmeley-Jones, of the War Risk Insurance Bureau. The future policy will be one of closer co-operation between these agencies and the Red Cross for the government bureau, with a view to avoiding congestion and duplication of effort.

Experience having demonstrated that the Red Cross Home Service sections are widespread and thoroughly trained in the regulations and methods of the Bureau, Director Cholmeley-Jones thought it best that the Red Cross should become the clearing agency through which all complaints and inquiries regarding the difficulties of service men should pass.

Most of the representatives agreed heartily with this plan, and in the future all community problems of service men will be cleared through local Home Service sections. The Red Cross will make available to the various agencies blanks and forms which have been prepared in co-operation with the War Risk Bureau. Replies in all cases will be returned by the Red Cross to the original inquirer, through the organization which handled it primarily.

Represented at the conference were: The Young Men's Christian Association, Veterans of the World War, American Library Association, American Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, National Catholic War Council, National Tuberculosis Society, American Legion, American Legion, American Jewish Relief, and the War Camp Community Service.

This increased responsibility places upon the Red Cross a new challenge and calls for an unlimited amount of teamwork.

The Hardest Job in Every Business

In nearly every line production has been increased on account of the war. The hardest job ahead is to find a market in peace times for what those factories turn out. Money is made—not in manufacturing—but in selling. Yet selling seldom receives the attention it deserves.

The number of factories a manufacturer can build—the profit he can earn—are limited by the amount of merchandise for which he can find a profitable market.

If demand can be kept ahead of production, a profitable market is sure. And the one way to keep demand ahead of production is by advertising—teaching the public to use more of your goods.

In the past the South has bent her energies on manufacturing. The marketing of her products were largely left to others who took the raw materials and staples and converted them into specialties, trade-marked, advertised and sold them. And, invariably, it is the selling of specialties that pays the wide margin of profit and the selling of staples that pays the slim.

Greater profits—keeping conditions in our hands instead of on them—depend upon our marketing our goods as well as upon our making them.

The South's cotton goods should be known by brand-names in Detroit just as we know and buy the various makes of automobiles produced by the citizens of that enterprising Michigan city.

Lumber, of which the South is the Nation's greatest possessor, will be needed for reconstruction and the merits of our various woods should be convincingly told by advertising.

The South is the greatest fat-producing section of America. In the vegetable oils from her cotton-seed, peanuts and soy beans she produces more fat than all the dairy cows of America—more fat than all the hogs slaughtered in a year. More Southern-made and marketed compound lards and salad oils would bring additional millions into Dixie.

Write, wire or phone any of the accredited advertising agencies of the South and arrange a conference with them to discuss how to increase sales. Let them help you solve the hardest job ahead.

Cane syrups, coffees and all the other epicurean delights for which the South is famed would find a bigger demand if backed by adequate advertising. And such a demand would automatically fix a profitable price.

Marketing our products as well as making them would furnish work for the hands and brains of our returning sons—provide room for the tallest ambition and stop the emigration to the North and West of the talented and ambitious.

There was a time when we could sell the merchant and let him push the goods. But today the hardware, grocery and drug stores will carry from 2,000 to 10,000 different items. Pushing any one is impossible.

Wise manufacturers are marking their goods so that they can be recognized—telling the public about their merits and inducing the folks to pull them off of the shelves. And in this respect, at least, an ounce of "push" is worth a pound of "push."

The advertising agencies of the South have had years of experience in advertising and marketing many commodities. They know the methods that have proved successful, because their whole time is engrossed with the problems of selling.

Their contact with leading manufacturers in many lines has made them intimate with various methods of winning trade—methods of securing distribution—fighting substitution. It is their business to know how business is being built.

Their services cost nothing. They are paid a commission by the publishers to make advertising profitable to the manufacturer. It will be a revelation to many business men to know the varied forms of assistance these agencies can render—information on markets, containers, trademark law, distribution methods, dealer cooperation, service in preparing booklets, copy-writing and real information on the value of different classes of advertising media.

THE SUGGESTED APPORTIONMENT

For the 42 Churches of Bethel Baptist Association in 75 Million Campaign:

At a meeting of the Executive Board held in Hopkinsville Sept. 8 1919, it was decided to recommend to the Association that the apportionment of $450,000 in the 75 Million Campaign be accepted and to further recommend that the several churches be advised of what their apportionments would be, based on a per capita which is $66.50 on 6800 members. The table below has been figured on that basis and submitted for the information of the churches, with the request that each church be prepared to act in the matter of fixing the apportionment at Guthrie October 1, the second day of the Association meeting. Many churches will ask for more in order to go over the top and help the weaker churches. Each church is expected to report through its messengers how much it will be able to assume in this greatest work Baptists have ever undertaken.

The names of the churches, the number of members and the apportionment are given below:

13 MILLION WHITE PEOPLE NOT SAVED

THIS IS ONE OF THE PRESSING STATE MISSION PROBLEMS IN THE SOUTHLAND.

THE SITUATION IS OUTLINED

Baptist 75 Million Campaign Has Apportioned $11,000,000 To Be Employed During the Next Five Years in Meeting Need.

Within the eighteen states comprising the territory of the Southern Baptist convention are 13,000,000 white people who are not only not identified with any church, but who do not claim to be Christians, according to information gathered by the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. To try and reach these people with the gospel is one of the aims of the campaign and to meet the problem the state mission organization in the various states will set themselves. To help these organizations in meeting that problem the sum of $11,000,000 has been apportioned from the total of $75,000,000 that is sought for all purposes, and during the next five years the state mission forces will seek to reach these millions of people right here at home with the gospel and enlist them in some phase of Christian work.

According to this same source of information, it is learned that there are 3,391 towns and villages in the South with a population of 200 or more in which there are no Baptist church organizations or no Baptist houses of worship. Inasmuch as these towns influence more or less the surrounding territory an effort will be made to reach them and the territory surrounding them during the five-year program of the Baptists, it is announced.

There are seventy-four county seats

AFTER-WAR ACTIVITIES OF AMERICAN RED CROSS

Is the work of the Red Cross over? During August, the Bureau of After-Care of the Home Service Sections in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky looked after 5,898 disability and tuberculosis cases—an increase of 2,242 over the previous month.

The Red Cross helped the soldiers—now the soldiers are helping the Red Cross. Many discharged men have become Red Cross secretaries to help the "other fellow" and his family as he himself has been helped.

Queen Marie of Rumania is personally aiding the American Red Cross Commission in the Balkans in the distribution of relief supplies among destitute Rumanians. The queen has planned an American visit in the near future.

Most communities, at some time or other, are called upon to face an emergency for an overwhelming disaster. Whether through fire, flood, explosion, earthquake or epidemic, the American Red Cross of the future hopes to be prepared to meet the crisis. Organization of a disaster relief committee is being urged for every chapter.

"Don't Fall Behind!" This is the word about government insurance which the Red Cross is giving every discharged service man. Insurance may be reinstated at any time within eighteen months after the insured man's discharge from the army, navy or marine corps.

In the Third Roll Call, November 2 to 11, the American Red Cross will ask the people for a renewal of their allegiance for future service.

That the American Red Cross, through its Peace Time Program, will be instrumental in eliminating and preventing disease and sickness, is the opinion of Dr. Livingston Farand, chairman of the Executive Committee. "We have a great organization," he says, "that represents every one of the national interests, and we propose to put this energy behind the great movement for bringing these interests together."

Three thousand, seven hundred and twelve women in the Lake Division have been awarded certificates for successful completion of the Red Cross work in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick.

The government will care for the disabled soldier and sailor, but the assistance of the Home Service sections of the Red Cross is necessary to find the men who need this help. Individuals can assist in referring cases of which they know to the Home Service section of the nearest chapter.

A membership of two million in the Junior Red Cross is the goal set for the Lake Division this year. Auxiliaries are now being formed and in the South without a single Baptist church or meeting house, it has been ascertained by the campaign headquarters. By reason of the large number of public officials residing there and the large number of people who go there from every section of the county to attend the sessions of the various courts, pay their taxes and the like it is regarded that the county seat towns are of especial importance and it is hoped that before the next five years have passed there will be an active Baptist church in every county-seat in the South.

Engaged in the work of state missions at present are 1524 missionaries and while this may seem like a reasonable number, when the vast territory to be served is considered it has been found that fully 1,000 extra men and women are needed at once, for in addition to reaching the people who are not Christians there are many weak, struggling churches which need assistance and whose members need development. In the several states of the Southern Baptist convention, for instance, there are 9,000 churches with a membership of many thousand which give but very little to any interest of the denomination and which are doing but very small things for the uplift of their communities.

In addition to these very weak churches, many of which have no pastor, there are in the various states a total of 19,688 churches which have preaching services only once a month, 3,000 churches which have services only once a month, and only about 2,200 full-time churches. Part of the $11,000,000 apportioned for state missions will go to the strengthening of the weak churches and the bringing of them to full-time pastorates where possible.

Leaders in the campaign have sought to care for every interest of the denomination in the $75,000,000 that is asked in cash and five-year pledges during Victory Week, November 30-December 7, when the final drive will be made, but they recognize that the future development of the church depends in a great measure upon the development of the churches at home which is the peculiar task of state missions.

renewed throughout Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana schools. Juniors members will be asked to help in the November 2 to 11 campaign for the Red Cross.

Many injure wheat. Specialists from all portions of the U. S. lately visited wheat fields in Illinois near East St. Louis. These fields have been ruined by a foreign disease commonly known as "take all." This same trouble has been found in Indiana, so the farmers in Kentucky should watch their wheat for diseased plants. "Take All" stunts the plant. The leaves become much darker than healthy leaves. Then stalks are often rotted at the base and become brown or gray-black. Diseased plants often produce shoots which have leaves that are much narrower than the first set. At times the whole plant dies leaving patches which are quite noticeable. When not badly diseased a plant may produce jointed stems and some heads; but the heads do not fill properly.

The farmer, who thinks he has this disease in his fields should mail the injured plants to the Experiment Station.

The New Overland 4. The Dalton-Davis Motor Co. have issued formal invitations to the public to call and see the newly arrived Overland 4. The three point cantilever spring suspension of this car introduces the most important improvement in riding qualities since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

Two-thirds of the women of the world are locked in the prisons of illiteracy, it has been declared by those who have made a close study of the situation. The Baptist 75 Million Campaign seeks to bring enlightenment to women in all parts of the world to whom the doors of knowledge have been closed heretofore by sending missionaries, both religious and medical, and Christian schools and hospitals into all the lands of the world.

The people in the mountain districts of the South are largely white and largely Protestant. Out of the 178 counties in the mountain districts 143 counties contain only persons of evangelical belief, while there are many counties having less than a dozen negroes in their population and in many of these counties grown people have never seen a negro.

There are 4,000 Baptist church organizations in the South which have no places of worship, it is announced by the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. It is one of the objects of the campaign to create a larger building loan fund with which these churches can be assisted in building houses of worship.

Prof. Paul B. Brooks, of Montgomery, Ala., spent last week here the guest of Mr. George Younglove's family.

As we have aforementioned we are selling this farm separately and WILL NOT OFFER IT AS A WHOLE.

TERMS: One fourth cash, one fourth Jan. 1st, 1920, three equal notes for the remainder due 1-2 and 3 years after Jan. 1, 1920 with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum payable semi-annually.

U. S. MAY NOT LOSE

Secretary Redfield Does Not Believe
Guarantee Will Cause Loss
To Government.

Boston, Mass.—There is small likelihood of the United States government having to face a deficit because of its guarantee of a fixed price on wheat, according to Secretary of Commerce Redfield, who addressed the Executive Association of Wholesale Grocers of New England here recently. Foreign crops were greatly impaired by war conditions, and the European demand for American wheat will far exceed the normal figures.

In the event that the Government price should exceed current market quotations, Secretary Redfield thinks the nation should accept the loss and permit the people to reap the benefit.

"There has been speculation in Washington as to what it will cost the government to make good its wheat guaranty," said Mr. Redfield.

"Opinions have ranged anywhere from nothing to a billion dollars. As time goes on, however, it becomes increasingly clear that the food conditions in large parts of the world are bad, worse than thought. The people of the Central Powers probably will not raise over half a crop, and as they used to call upon us for large amounts in normal times, it is certain those demands will be greatly increased, provided always that means can be found for payment. Therefore many well informed men doubt whether the prices of wheat will fall below or even to the government guaranty."

"If they should go below it is my own belief that the Government should itself accept the loss and allow the country the benefit, if there shall be one, of the lowest prices that prevail."

OLDEST CITY IN BELGIUM

The Grand Place and Cathedral.

TOURNAI, the oldest city in Belgium, once the capital of the Merovingian kings, is truly a city of romance, whether we think of the tomb of Childeric, the father of Clovis, with its wonderful treasures, discovered after being lost to sight for nearly 1,200 years, or of the poor, deluded youth, Perkin Warbeck, the tool of the Yorkists, and through them brought to an ignominious death, says a writer in Sphere. For us in England perhaps its primary interest centers in its being the birthplace of Perkin, whose real name was Pierce Osbeck. This strange impostor was the son of a simple Flemish weaver. Made a puppet by some of the Yorkist party, including Margaret of York, dowager Duchess of Burgundy, to personate Richard Duke of York, whom they declared had not been murdered in the Tower with his brother, but had escaped and been concealed, only awaiting an opportunity to declare his royal birth, he succeeded for a time in exciting a formidable revolt against the King, Henry VII.

After many strange adventures and much ill success, in spite of the recognition of his claims by the kings of Scotland and France, Perkin, finding himself insufficiently supported in his sorry fraud and realizing that he "had not the heart of a king," "it only the heart of a weaver's son," made confession of his imposture and was imprisoned in the Tower. Soon after, on attempting to escape, he was hanged at Tyburn, finishing with a rope round his neck instead of the promised crown upon his head.

Tomb of Childeric.

An interest wholly different from this passing futile deception, however romantic some of its circumstances may have been, attaches to Tournai when we think of it as the seat of the Merovingian kings. In 1653 some workmen, whilst digging foundations for a hospital, came upon a collection of gold ornaments, a sword mounted

The golden bees had been discovered in considerable numbers, and were thought to have decorated the royal robes, and it is interesting to recall that Napoleon, ever entering into the spirit of historical display, chose this decoration for his coronation robes.

Has Beautiful Buildings.

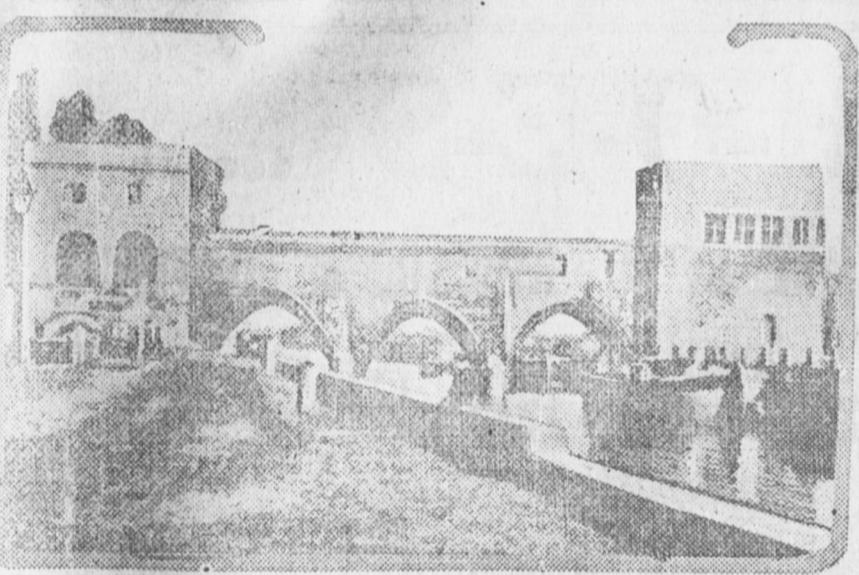

Tournai claims to be the oldest of the cities of Belgium, and is certainly one of the most interesting and most picturesque, and contains a large number of beautiful buildings. There has always been great sympathy between the people of Tournai and the French, and much intercourse between the town and Lille, just across the frontier.

The Grande place stands a statue of the Princess d'Epinois, who distinguished herself in the defense of Tournai against Alejandro Farnese in 1581. She fought in full armor and saved the town by her energy and courage. The beautiful cathedral is one of the finest examples of the Romanesque type of architecture, and challenges comparison with the splendid churches of northern France.

CANNOT RANK AS DIPLOMAT

General Smuts Disqualified Himself by His Unseemly Employment of Plain Language.

The language of the law is the most formal in the world and the most precise. It seeks the definite so ardently that, with its repetitions and wherases, it confuses its own message and only that rather perverted form of intellect, the legal mind, can wind through its labyrinthine verbiage. The language of diplomacy, borrowing something of formality from the law, is nevertheless far more dignified. The law deals merely with estates and private contracts. It decrees the fate of the individual. But the fate of nations may hang on the phraseology of diplomacy. Its greater importance has with gold, some remains of human bones and a gold signet ring bearing the inscription, "Childerict." Here was the key to discovery, for the presence of the ring led experts to consider that this was the burial place of Childeric, king of the Salian Franks, whose capital was at Tournai, and who died in 81.

This conjecture was further strengthened by an examination of the different objects, which were of such fine workmanship that they could only have been wrought for some great chief or royal personage. The hilt and scabbard of the sword were mounted with gold, enriched with a mosaic of garnets and other precious stones held in a gold cloison. Gold ornaments in the form of bees, and having the wings outlined with an inlay of garnets set in gold, and also a small votive object in the form of a bull's head, with the solar disk on the forehead, recalling Iycenean examples, formed part of his treasure, and on the ring bearing the king's name was engraved the head of a man with the long, straight hair worn by the Merovingians, and with a gold torque or collar round his neck. Perhaps this was meant for a presentation, as near as might be, of Childeric.

This rare treasure, after changing hands two or three times, eventually wound its way to the Cabinet des Maitiales, Paris. In 1831 thieves, in an hour, broke in and stole almost the whole of it, leaving behind them only the mounting of the sword, two golden bees, a fibula and a few stray fragments.

His Retort.

"You should work for something besides money."

"If you mention something besides money that my grocer and coal man will take, I'll be glad to work for it."

MANY CITIZENS TAKE FLIGHTS

HARRISON AND COMBS WILL REMAIN HERE ALL THIS WEEK FOR FLIGHTS

JAMES BREATHITT III GOES UP.

Several ladies have enjoyed the thrill of a trip into the clouds.

Aviators Harrison and Combs are still here and are making daily flights from the field across the pike from the Western State Hospital, a part of the hospital farms. Short flights are made with passengers from time to time over the lands of the Hospital, J. M. Morris, The Southern Mineral Co., and others owning farms in the vicinity. Occasionally flights are made over the city.

A good many local people have gone up with one or the other of the aviators.

On Saturday James Breathitt, Jr., went up and was put through the usual round of stunts. "Little Jimmy," his five-year-old son, expressed a desire to go up and was taken up for a short flight and came down disappointed because he was not taken as high as his father. His mother was next given the same experience, going high enough to loop the loop and be given other thrills.

The same afternoon Miss Elizabeth Mason was taken up for a flight.

On Sunday afternoon a large crowd was at the aviation field and a number of other citizens went up.

Marvin Broadhead was put through a series of stunts that caused him to land with a case of "seasickness," which lasted for some minutes.

Mrs. Andrew Sargent, Mrs. Oscar Bass, John W. Garnett and W. W. Barbee were others who tried a journey into the clouds and were delighted with the experience.

The aviators charge $15 and take only one passenger at a time.

DRY AS A BONE.

The country's dry; some gin and rye in alleys may be peddled, But prison waits the foolish skates who with such trade have meddled. The thirsty gink who seeks a drink of soul-destroying, bitters, Must cast aside all decent pride and herd with low down critters.

The country's dry and so am I, but I'm a fan for water;

When heated up I want a cup that doesn't make me hotter.

The foaming beer, all amber clear, that bears such lurking titles,

Piles useless fat on waist and slat, and superheads men's vitals.

The sparkling wine whose bubbles shine like dew upon the clover, Heats up one's veins and cooks his brains, and leaves a fierce hangover.

I drink from pools, for water cools my works, by summer heated;

I don't regret the era wet, when men each other treated.

I drink from pumps and have no dumps when rising in the morning;

No stomach throes, and my red nose is not a horrid warning.

I drink from brooks, whose bends and crooks bisect the smiling valleys;

I have no use for serpent juice dispensed in dirty alleys.

—Walt Mason.

WHEN IT WAS CALLED HORSELESS CARRIAGE

The first New York show was held in 1900.

In 1898 gasoline sold for 6 cents a gallon.

The first four-cylinder car was brought out in 1900.

In 1896 Barnum & Bailey said they would exhibit throughout the country a "horseless vehicle."

In July, 1898, the news was given that a plant would be built to turn out "one motor carriage a week."

General Nelson A. Miles, Chauncy M. Depew and John Jacob Astor were judges of the second automobile run to be held in this country.

It is hard to conceive that in 1896 there were but four automobiles in the United States.

The first long distance tour was made from Cleveland to New York. It took from July 28 to August 7.

The first transcontinental run was made from Cleveland to New York and took over two months, from May 23 to July 26.

In March, 1897, in the New York Journal, a writer described his first motor car ride as follows:

"In search of a new sensation, I went yesterday and rode in a horseless carriage."

"I dreamed once that I walked down Fifth Avenue in my pajamas in the full tide of the afternoon promenade, and almost died with shame before I awoke. Yesterday I had something of the same feeling as I sat there and felt myself pushed forward in the very face of the grinning, staring and sometimes jeering New York."

CANNOT RANK AS DIPLOMAT

General Smuts Disqualified Himself by His Unseemly Employment of Plain Language.

The language of the law is the most formal in the world and the most precise. It seeks the definite so ardently that, with its repetitions and whereases, it confuses its own message and only that rather perverted form of intellect, the legal mind, can wind through its labyrinthine verbiage. The language of diplomacy, borrowing something of formality from the law, is nevertheless far more dignified. The law deals merely with estates and private contracts. It decrees the fate of the individual. But the fate of nations may hang on the phraseology of diplomacy. Its greater importance has with gold, some remains of human bones and a gold signet ring bearing the inscription, "Childeric." Here was the key to discovery, for the presence of the ring led experts to consider that this was the burial place of Childeric, king of the Salian Franks, whose capital was at Tournai, and who died in 511.

So we must conclude that General Smuts is not a diplomat. He has not the diplomatic method of expression. When the general met a diplomat, trained in the school of Metternich, to discuss informally a separate peace with Austria, he put the question of such a peace squarely to the bearded, bearded representative. There was hesitation and equivocation. "Good night!" was the general's exclamation as he left the confused diplomat.

General Smuts may not wear shirt sleeves in diplomatic councils, but this use of the vernacular shows that his verbiage at least takes its coat off. The acid touch of a bit of slang put an end to the prolonged ambiguities and deceptions of which diplomacy is so fond.

His Retort.

"You should work for something besides money."

"If you mention something besides money that my grocer and coal man will take, I'll be glad to work for it."

Mutual Help.

"I understand from what your wife says you help each other with the house bills."

"Sure we do. She hands me the bills and I foot them."

MANY CITIZENS TAKE FLIGHTS

HARRISON AND COMBS WILL REMAIN HERE ALL THIS WEEK FOR FLIGHTS

JAMES BREATHITT III GOES UP.

Several Ladies Have Enjoyed the Thrill of a Trip Into the Clouds.

Aviators Harrison and Combs are still here and are making daily flights from the field across the pike from the Western State Hospital, a part of the hospital farms. Short flights are made with passengers from time to time over the lands of the Hospital, J. M. Morris, The Southern Mineral Co., and others owning farms in the vicinity. Occasionally flights are made over the city.

A good many local people have gone up with one or the other of the aviators.

On Saturday James Breathitt, Jr., went up and was put through the usual round of stunts. "Little Jimmy," his five-year-old son, expressed a desire to go up and was taken up for a short flight and came down dissatisfied because he was not taken as high as his father. His mother was next given the same experience, going high enough to loop the loop and be given other thrills.

The same afternoon Miss Elizabeth Mason was taken up for a flight.

On Sunday afternoon a large crowd was at the aviation field and a number of other citizens went up.

Marvin Broadhead was put through a series of stunts that caused him to land with a case of "seasickness," which lasted for some minutes.

Mrs. Andrew Sargent, Mrs. Oscar Bass, John W. Garnett and W. W. Barber were others who tried a journey into the clouds and were delighted with the experience.

The aviators charge $15 and take only one passenger at a time.

DRY AS A BONE.

The country's dry; some gin and rye in alleys may be peddled, But prison waits the foolish skates who with such trade have meddled. The thirsty gink who seeks a drink of soul-destroying, bitters, Must cast aside all decent pride and herd with low down critters. The country's dry and so am I, but I'm a far for water; When heated up I want a cup that doesn't make me hotter. The foaming beer, all amber clear, that bears such lurking titles, Piles useless fat on waist and slat, and superheads men's vitals. The sparkling wine whose bubbles shine like dew upon the clover, Heats up one's veins and cooks his brains, and leaves a fierce hangover. I drink from pools, for water cools my works, by summer heated; I don't regret the era wet, when men each other treated. I drink from pumps and have no dumps when rising in the morning; No stomach throes, and my red nose is not a horrid warning. I drink from brooks, whose bends and crooks bisect the smiling valleys; I have no use for serpent juice dispensed in dirty alleys.

—Walt Mason.

Learning by Experience.

Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other, and scarce in that; for it is true, we may give advice, but we cannot give conduct. However, they that will not be counseled cannot be helped, and if you will not hear reason, she will surely rap your knuckles.—Frank!!!

QUALITY COUNTS IN CLOTHES

THREE'S a lot of talk going around about the peculiar conditions existing in the clothing markets--about the scarcity of finer clothing, the flood of inferior goods, and so forth.

You really should be cautious in buying, and careful where you buy---this fall especially.

You don't need to worry if you come to this store. We sell Kuppenheimer clothes; they are made of all-wool; the best in the land; the tailoring sets the example for all others.

We make it our business to have such clothes for you; we want you to get the thing you like---the best quality and value for the price you pay. That's our idea for service-giving.

Styles--as Interpreted by Women's Smart Footwear

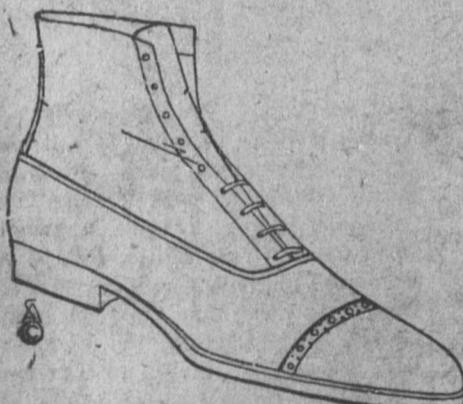

Long vamps, long slender toes with or without perforations, and in almost every instance the graceful Louis heel. This gives every woman an outline of style in Footwear this Fall. But, we have forgotten the most essential bit of information if we neglect to add that the chosen color is brown, whether it is Mouse brown or Nut brown, and both are pleasing shades.

Boy's Economy Shoes Stitched to stay Stitched

These have a creased and strongly stitched vamp and are made of full grained Black Kangaroo leather in a Blucher lace style that boys like. Heavy extension soles are unusually serviceable and the broad leather heels will not wear down or run over easily. They had wearing satisfaction figured out in them before they ever left the manufacturer.

Men's Fall Shoes Have a Snappy Style

The English last has won the acceptance of all men. Personal pride and excellent fitting qualities directs men's choice toward shoes made over this English last. Long receding toes, show perforations and close welt soles add to their snappy appearance. In black or brown.
